

INDIVIDUALIZED SKILL DEVELOPMENT

Our Independent Skills Development (ISD) program provides targeted, personalized support and instruction to help individuals living in their own or family homes build and maintain important life skills that increase independence. Each plan is based on the individual's goals and focuses on areas such as home care, budgeting and money management, and learning to use public transportation. Support is flexible and tailored to what each person wants to achieve, with the goal of building confidence and long-term independence.
