

PREVOCATIONAL SKILLS

Our Prevocational Skills program provide one-on-one and group learning experiences to help individuals build general, non-job-specific skills needed for success in competitive, integrated employment. These time-limited services focus on measurable outcomes and support individuals in developing independence and work readiness based on their interests and abilities. Services are ideally delivered in the community and involve collaboration with local businesses to create meaningful learning opportunities.

Supports include, but are not limited to:

- ✓ Foundational Skills: problem solving, communication, time management, organizational, and feedback
- ✓ General Skills: workplace safety, emergency procedures, instructions, task performance, stamina
- ✓ Non-Job Specific Skills: hygiene, social/emotional, financial
- ✓ Outcomes: assessment, action plan, ISP goal development
